

Are "COVID vaccines" causing millions of deaths?

It is currently impossible to know exactly how many deaths have been caused worldwide by the "Covid vaccines" and how many people have suffered adverse effects, but we can analyse the official data available from the main reporting systems and then make a projection for the rest of the world's population to get an approximate but realistic idea of the enormous damage that this gene experiment is causing. Based on the available information, it appears that by now more than two million people must have been killed by vaccines and hundreds of millions have suffered adverse effects, many of them serious or very serious. And if society ignores this, it is simply because of censorship by governments and the media, who are complicit in this veritable genocide.

There is no doubt that those who refuse to be inoculated with the dangerous experimental vaccines for Covid-19, whose safety and efficacy have not been adequately tested, are being subjected to intolerable pressure, including social isolation - confinement - and limitations on their rights, including their fundamental rights. It has reached the absurdity of accusing the unvaccinated of making the vaccinated infected! The stupidity is obvious and is only intended to divert attention from the fact that vaccines do not immunise and do not lessen the effects of those who are vaccinated becoming ill, as they are now being led to believe without a single clinical or epidemiological study to support this.

The deception has been such that those vaccinated are incapable of even understanding that the famous herd immunity - the authorities speak of "herd" immunity, thus revealing what they really think of the citizens - should have been achieved by vaccinating 30% of the population, but in Spain 90% have already been vaccinated and people are still "catching the disease" (in reality "testing positive" for a PCR whose diagnostic reliability is NONE).

We have been denouncing for a year and a half that the whole thing is a farce and the facts are finally beginning to seem so obvious to many people who until now seemed to be sleepwalking that those who have orchestrated this sham have become so nervous that they have urged the corrupt World Health Organisation (WHO) to include "anti-vaccination" in the list of the ten greatest dangers to world health!

On 7 November last year, the Spanish newspaper ABC - to give an example - published a story with the headline: "More than 84 million Europeans are still reluctant to get vaccinated". As it refers to those over 12 years of age and those under that age in Europe - which has 741 million inhabitants - are about 100 million, we would be talking about 84 million out of 641 million not having been vaccinated. In other words, if ABC were right, 13.1% would not have been vaccinated in Europe and 86.9% would have been vaccinated.

This is an absolute fallacy that proves that the official figures do not have the slightest credibility. Firstly, not all countries have reliable reporting systems for adverse drug and vaccine reactions. Secondly, there are several published and well-known official studies that show that where such a system does exist, no more than 1% of cases are recorded because health professionals - like citizens - have been led to believe that vaccines are generally harmless and when they see adverse effects they choose not to relate them to vaccines and do not report them at all. Thirdly, not all reports are accepted; many are rejected on a wide variety of grounds. And fourthly, there is no way to check the veracity of the data because no one outside the body that records and processes them has access to them. To make matters worse, a possible relationship between vaccination and adverse effects (including deaths) is only accepted if they appear in the first 21-28 days (depending on the country) when it has been proven that they can appear months or even years later. The standard is therefore shameless.

Three major reporting systems have been in place for decades: the US VAERS (Vaccine Adverse Event Reporting System), the European Union's EudraVigilance (European Union Drug Regulating Authorities Pharmacovigilance) and the UK's Yellow Card Scheme. Well, these were their latest figures at the time of going to press:

1) VAERS acknowledges that between 14 December 2020 and 5 November 2021 vaccines had caused 18,461 deaths and 875,653 adverse events in the US (1).

2) EUDRAVigilance recognises that in the 27 countries of the European Union as of 6 November, 29,934 people had died and 2,804,900 had suffered adverse events, 1,311,861 of them serious (table 1) (2). It does not therefore provide data for the other 23 countries of the old continent. Y,

3) The Yellow Card admits that as of 3 November in the United Kingdom there had been 1,766 deaths and 362,079 adverse events (3).

In short, in these 29 countries alone - and there are 194 - 50,161 deaths and 4,042,632 adverse effects (half of them serious) are officially recognised AS A RESULT OF THE VACCINES! And if it turns out that, according to the studies carried out on the system, only 1% of the adverse effects are reported, the situation is terrifying.

SERIOUS ADVERSE EFFECTS

We have already talked about the numerous adverse effects of conventional vaccines in 93 reports in the magazine (you can find them in the section The danger of vaccines on our website: www.dsalud.com), but those of the "Covid vaccines" are even greater. And this is not a gratuitous assertion: this is publicly acknowledged by official bodies, even if it is miserably concealed by the mainstream media. And the reason is that some of them contain components that have never been used before (4). Covid! vaccines can be classified into three groups according to what they contain:

- Inactivated viruses: Sinovac, Sinopharm and the Chinese vaccines. Traditional vaccines.

- Encapsulated RNA: Pfizer, Moderna and CureVac.

- Vectored DNA: AstraZeneca, Janssen, Sputnik and Cansino.

1) Inactivated virus vaccines. In addition to the recognised effects of classical vaccines, they can also provoke the ADE syndrome, an immunological paradoxical phenomenon which, instead of reducing the severity of the disease, increases it and can even lead to death.

2) Encapsulated RNA vaccines. Those who claim - without evidence - that SARS-CoV-2 exists assert that the coronavirus has a distinctive protein known as Spike that allows it to attach to healthy cells and infect people. Well, it is claimed that these vaccines contain synthetic fragments of messenger RNA from the virus which, when introduced into cells - safely, they say - cause numerous Spike proteins to appear, leading the immune system to fight them. That is what is postulated, but what is really proven is that they have a great number of dangers, among which these stand out:

- The synthetic spike protein is identical to two human fusion proteins: syncytin 1 - essential for the proper formation of the placenta and the normal development of pregnancy - and syncytin 2, which prevents the mother's immune system from attacking the foetus as it considers its cells foreign, so its removal can cause miscarriages. In addition, it cannot be ruled out that the injected RNA may produce other worrying syncytin-like proteins.

- Inoculated mRNA can enter vascular endothelial, immune and, above all, hepatic cells and can damage tissues and organs as well as cause microthrombosis in the lungs, heart, kidney, intestines and brain.

- The interaction of inoculated mRNA with the ACE2 enzyme - present in the whole body - can damage the testes and cause infertility.

They can inhibit or suppress anti-tumour proteins, facilitating the development and/or spread of cancer, especially lymphomas and leukaemias.

Homology has been found between synthetic spike and the so-called human HERVs proteins, so that these vaccines may cause transverse myelitis and ALS.

- There is evidence that the inoculated RNA can integrate into human DNA and produce mutations in the germ line - spermatocytes and oocytes - and in the immune system.

Added to all this are the toxicity problems caused by the lipid nanoparticles enveloping the RNA, whose toxicity is very high and can lead to long-term biochemical alterations and pathologies as well as allergies and anaphylaxis due to polyethylene glycol, a toxic lipid used in pharmaceuticals and various products. It could even lead to death.

The latest studies indicate that these vaccines can cause myocarditis even in children and may also be the reason why so many young sportsmen and women - many of them well-known - have died after vaccination, collapsing while exercising.

Finally, these vaccines have already been linked to the aggravation of neuropsychiatric problems such as autoimmune psychosis, delusions and suicidal ideation.

3) Vectored DNA vaccines. They are said to contain a "viral gene" produced from the synthetic protein spike and to enter cells with a viral vector, i.e. a genetically modified adenovirus so that it cannot reproduce. They have been found to cause mutagenesis, induced immunodeficiency, coagulation problems, thrombosis, eye problems, including blindness, and thrombocytopenia. In addition, according to VAERS, they have been linked to almost three thousand miscarriages, thousands of vaginal and uterine haemorrhages, testicular inflammation and erectile dysfunction (5). And the FDA, for its part, admits among its possible adverse effects (6) the following: "Guillain-Barré syndrome, acute disseminated encephalomyelitis, myelitis, transverse myelitis, encephalitis, encephalomyelitis, meningoencephalitis, meningitis, encephalopathy, seizures, narcolepsy, anaphylaxis, myocarditis, pericarditis, infarcts, autoimmune diseases, acute demyelinating diseases, spontaneous abortions, allergic reactions, thrombocytopenia, disseminated intravascular coagulation, venous thromboembolism, arthritis, arthralgia, joint pain, systemic inflammatory response syndrome in children and Kawasaki

We will add that according to the National Vaccine Information Center "82 to 91 percent of vaccinated pregnant women will suffer miscarriages if the foetus is less than 20 weeks old (at the time of mRNA introduction)". In fact, according to VAERS, there have been more fetal deaths in the last eleven months following the "Covid vaccines" than in the previous 30 years for all vaccines (7).

We conclude this section by recalling that in the European Union the four major vaccines - Pfizer, Moderna, AstraZeneca and Johnson & Johnson - have also been associated with blood and lymphatic system disorders, cardiac, congenital, endocrine, ocular, gastrointestinal, hepatobiliary, immunological, metabolic, musculoskeletal and connective tissue, renal and urinary, respiratory and vascular disorders as well as malignant neoplasms and psychiatric disorders (8).

A TINY FRACTION IS REPORTED

Jane Doe, a health fraud detection expert at the US Centers for Disease Control (CDC), made a declaration under penalty of perjury on 13 July 2021 for the purpose of legal action to stop vaccinations in which she said: "I am a computer programmer with expertise in the field of healthcare data analysis, an honour that allows me access to Medicare and Medicaid data (...) and over the past 25 years I have developed over a hundred different healthcare fraud detection algorithms in both the public and private sectors (...) Much of what I do focuses on the quality of beneficiary care (...) When Covid vaccines were clearly associated with patient harms and deaths I felt compelled to investigate the matter. It is my professional estimation that the VAERS database, while extremely useful, is underestimated by a factor of at least five (i.e. the numbers are five times higher than claimed). On 9 July 2021, 9,048 deaths were reported to VAERS. I verified those numbers by personally compiling all VAERS data by consulting claims data from Medicare and Medicaid facilities regarding vaccines and patient deaths and my assessment is that deaths occurring in the three days following vaccination are five times higher than those reported to VAERS. This implies that the true number of vaccine-related deaths (COVID) was at least 45,000". He adds a momentous comparative fact: "The swine flu vaccine was withdrawn from the market when it had caused only 53 deaths" (9).

Recall that the well-known Lazarus Report - produced by Harvard Pilgrim Health Care between 2007 and 2010 (10) - already concluded a decade ago - as mentioned above - that only 1% of adverse events from vaccines are usually reported. "Adverse events from drugs and vaccines are common but usually go unreported," it reads. Although 25% of outpatients experience an adverse drug event, less than 0.3% of mild and between 1% and 13% of serious adverse drug events are reported to the FDA. And less than 1% of adverse events in the case of vaccines".

It should be added that according to a recent private investigation it appears that some 150,000 deaths were removed from the VAERS database as deaths of unknown causes or included among serious cases (11).

WHAT IS THE REAL SCALE OF THE GENOCIDE?

The VAERS Analysis website analyses VAERS data in depth each week, and its 28 October 2020 report opens with a quote from an FDA panelist at a meeting of the Vaccines and Related Biologicals Advisory Committee. Speaking about "Covid vaccines" he said: "We will never know how safe this vaccine will be until we start administering it. That's the way it works. Well, the remarkable thing is that according to that report, based on CDC and VAERS data, children under the age of 12 are 188 times more likely to die from Covid vaccines than from the disease (12).

And there is more: the latest VAERS Analysis report states that in the first six months the "Covid vaccines" produced twice as many deaths in the US as all conventional vaccines administered in the US in the previous thirty years. In six months there were 18,461 deaths compared to 9,223 deaths over the previous three decades. And birth defects following inoculation of pregnant women were five times higher in those six months: 632 versus 158 for all conventional vaccines in 30 years (Table 2) (13).

We conclude this article with an account of the Report on vaccine deaths by independent writer and researcher David John Sorensen and Dr Vladimir Zelenko (14).

In our opinion, it is a rigorous and complex document because it does not limit itself to giving official figures but delves into how cases are reported and, above all, into the various mechanisms that reduce or block these reports. The report opens with these stark words: "The purpose of this report is to document how millions of people have died and hundreds of millions of serious adverse events have occurred worldwide following injections with experimental mRNA gene therapy. We also reveal the real risk of unprecedented genocide. He adds bluntly: "The data show that we are witnessing the largest organised mass murder in the history of our world. The gravity of the situation forces us to ask this critical question: will we stand up for billions of innocent people or will we allow personal gain to trump justice and become complicit?"

His thesis is that if we accept that only 1% of adverse effects are reported between the United States, the European Union and the United Kingdom, there would not have been - as officially recognised - just over four million cases (4,042,632) - both mild and serious - but 100 times more: just over four hundred million (404,263,200) for a population of some eight hundred and forty-five million (845,739,281). And in that case the adverse effects on the world's population would, extrapolating these figures, amount to 3.9 billion.

In terms of deaths, if we extrapolate to the entire planet (7.8 billion) the 50,161 deaths registered between the United States, the European Union and the United Kingdom (845 million), the deaths in the world would already be 460,000. That is accepting the official figures that appear on their websites because if Jane Doe is right, we would have to multiply this figure by five and that would bring the number of deaths caused by the "Covid vaccines" to some 2.3 million. To these we must add those that will continue to occur in the coming months and years and take into account that a large part of the population may be sterilised at the same time without their knowledge.

Regrettable.
